TARIFF TALK ENDS AT THE CAPITAL

THE SENATE READY TO TAKE A VOTE.

No Anti-Trust Amendment—Before Adjournment Is Taken Today the Measure Will Be Acted Upon—House Not Likely To Make an Important Change in the Bill.

Washington, July 7.—The senate decided by unanimous consent to take the first vote on the passage of the tariff bill to-day. The bill is now in the committee of the whole, and the vote will be necessary to take the bill with the amendments into the senate. Then a second vote will be required to pass it. Whether or not the bill will pass the senate to-day depends upon the hour at which the first vote is taken and the resistance the Democrats may offer, but it is believed by those who are in charge of the measure that it will be ready to send to the house before the senate adjourns for the day. The session of the house to-day will probably be short, and no attempt is likely to be made to keep the members in attendance. If the senate passes the bill and the house is not in session to receive it at once it will be presented at the regular session Thursday. The house will probably non-concur in the senate amendments and ask a conference. The house conferees will be appointed and the senate will agree to the conference and appoint its representatives. The bill will remain in conference about a week or ten days. No difficulty is anticipated in having the conference report accepted in the house, but as the senate is closely divided on the bill its representatives will not be in a position to make concessions to the house of much importance. Therefore the bill as it passes the senate will likely become law, with minor and unimportant exceptions.

During the day the anti-trust question was debated at length. Mr. Bates made a general argument against the measure from the standpoint, as he announced, of an advocate of "fair trade and free silver." Mr. Pettus (Ala.) offered his amendment declaring unlawful the importation of sugar by any trust or combination operating in restraint of trade. Mr. Chilton (Tex.) followed with an arraignment of trusts, arguing that they were fostered by the tariff.

Mr. Morgan spoke against trusts, saying he favored the amendment of his colleague (Mr. Pettus). Mr. Caffery did not believe that the Pettus amendment would affect the sugar trust. The vote was then taken. Messrs. Teller and Heitfeld voted with the Democrats in favor of the amendment and Messrs. McEnery and Stewart against it.

Mr. Caffery then offered an amendment to strike out all the differential on refined sugar, which was lost —28 to 34—Messrs. Heitfeld and Teller voting aye and Messrs. McEnery and Stewart no.

Mr. Allen brought forward the amendment for a bounty on beet sugar, and took the floor to support the amendment.

Mr. Thurston (Neb.) replied briefly to his colleague.

Mr. Allison then moved that the Allen amendment, providing a sugar bounty, be laid on the table. The motion prevailed—yeas 57, nays 9. The negative vote was cast by Allen, Butler, Harris (Kansas), Heitfeld, Kyle, Pettigrew, Stewart, Teller and Mantle, Populists and silver Republicans.

Mr. Allison now came forward with a request for an agreement for a final vote to-day.

Mr. Pettigrew interposed an inquiry as to whether white pine lumber would be left at $1 per 1,000 feet. He desired some assurance that the rate would not be disturbed; otherwise he would have to object to the agreement.

Mr. Allison gave assurance that the committee would not make a change, and the agreement on the vote was then reached.

For Pardon of Youngers.

Kansas City, Mo., July 7.—W. C Bronaugh left here last night to present to the Minnesota board of pardons a most formidable petition, asking the pardon of Cole and Jim Younger, the bandits. The names of the petitioners which are now made public for first time, include some of the best known public men in the country. Among them are six judges of the Sureme Court of Missouri, United States Senators G. G. Vest, Stephen B. Elkins and D. M. Sabin, Congressmen Cowherd Dockery, Clark, Robb, Dearmond and Benton, all of Missouri; nearly all present state officers, including Gov. Stephens and ex-Governors Stone and Crittenden.

Brazil Monarchists Active.

Buenos Ayres, July 6.—A popular meeting of monarchists was held in Rio Janeiro last night, at which demonstrations against the government of a threatening character were made. President Moraes has declared that he will proceed with energy against the disturbers and will maintain order at any cost.

Thielmann to Be Recalled.

Berlin, July 7.—The official papers announce that Baron Thielman, the German ambassador at Washington, will be recalled. It is said that he will be given the post of secretary of the treasury.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

The four tailenders, including Chicago, remained stationary yesterday. Cincinnati again defeated Baltimore, and is now solid in second place. The Orioles seem to have struck the chute. Boston won with ease, and the Giants moved ahead at the expense of the other team from Greater New York. Pittsburg pulled up on Tebeau's fighters by downing them in an errorless game. Scores:

At Philadelphia—
Boston	0	2	2	0	0	1	1	0	0	—6
Philadelphia	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	—2
At Pittsburg—
Pittsburg	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	—3

PEOPLE'S PARTY CONFERENCE.

Committee Appointed to Reorganize and Build Up the Faction.

Nashville, July 7.—The national conference of the People's party reassembled at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday. The report of the committee on resolutions provides for the appointment of a committee on organization, composed of three from each state, the chairman to be elected by the conference. It also provides for an executive committee of five to co-operate with the national executive committee when that committee acts upon the line of Populist principles.

The afternoon session was devoted to the discussion of an address to the people, which was adopted. The address is lengthy and scores both Republican and Democratic parties, declares against fusion, says free silver will not bring relief until trusts, combines and rings are abolished, reaffirms the platform of the party, especially as to the initiative and referendum, and calls upon all to join in the contest it is waging.

Elks Begin Their Meeting.

Minneapolis, July 7.—The grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks met Tuesday morning in the Metropolitan theater. Grand Exalted Ruler Detweiler's report was a long document, which recommended among other things a new constitution and a new ritual. Grand Secretary George A. Reynolds of Saginaw, Mich., made a report showing the order to be in a very healthy and prosperous state. The membership is now 35,000, an increase of 7,000 during the year. Thirty-three new lodges have been added to the roll, and there is a $10,000 surplus in the treasury.

Big Strike in Great Britain.

London, July 7.—In consequence of the strike of engineers in London in support of their demand for an eight-hour work day the Federated Employers' Association has posted notices throughout Great Britain locking out 25 per cent of the members of the striking societies. It is understood that the societies will order the remaining 75 per cent of their members to leave work immediately. Twenty-five thousand men will be affected.

President to Decide It.

Washington, July 7.—H. H. Hanna, chairman of the executive committee of the Indianapolis "sound money" convention, had a consultation Tuesday with Secretary Gage. Later, it was understood, Secretary Gage had a talk with the President. The President's decision as to whether he will send a special message to congress recommending a currency commission is expected this week.

Great Rains in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., July 7.—Eastern Minnesota received another drenching Tuesday night, increasing the apprehension regarding the crop. So much water has fallen since July 1 that thousands of acres of small grain along the rivers are completely submerged. It is certain that if the rain continues much longer much of the crop will be ruined. Rising rivers are reported all over the state.

Loss by Floods in France.

Paris, July 7.—Advices from the south of France show that the destruction by the floods was greater even than earlier reports indicated. The losses are estimated at 200,000,000 francs in the aggregate. Hardly a village escaped damage, and the number of persons drowned is quite 300.

Delegates Are Gathering.

Toronto, Ont., July 7.—Delegates to the conference of charities and corrections are coming in and by to-night 500 of them will be here. President Alex. Johnston of Fort Wayne, Ind., arrived

TEACHERS WELCOMED TO THE CREAM CITY

GOV. SCOFIELD MAKES THE ADDRESS YESTERDAY.

Educators of the United States Are Now in Session at Milwaukee—Superintendent Emery and Mayor Rauschenberger Also Speak—Response by the Delegates.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 7.—The convention of the members of the National Educational Association opened in the Exposition building Tuesday, and entered on the deliberations of the week.

Gen. Scofield welcomed the delegates to Wisconsin, and declared that the presence of the members of the association in Milwaukee was an honor to a state that had been the scene of many national gatherings.

The governor was followed by J. Q. Emery, state superintendent of public instruction, who extended a welcome on behalf of the educational interests of the state.

On behalf of the municipality Mayor Rauschenberger then welcomed the members of the association to this city.

The educational interests of the city were represented by H. O. R. Siefert, superintendent of schools, and he bade the delegates welcome.

Now came the responses on behalf of the guests of the city and the state. The first to respond was A. E. Winship, president of the American Institute of Instruction of Boston. J. L. Holloway, superintendent of schools of Fort Smith, Ark., came next on the programme. He spoke on "The New South." Albert G. Lane, superintendent of schools of Chicago, and chairman of the board of trustees, responded. President Skinner then read his annual address.

The programme was brought to a close by an able address by Newton C. Dougherty, superintendent of schools at Peoria, Ill.

OPEN WITH A CONCERT.

Christian Endeavorers Begin Their Great Convention.

San Francisco, July 7.—The great Christian Endeavor convention opened Tuesday evening with a concert in the Mechanics' Pavilion. The concert chorus and the bouquet chorus united in a grand service of song which refreshed and fortified the delegates for the work of the week.

It is estimated that 6,000 Endeavorers are in the city, and trains are arriving all of the time. Six hundred car loads of delegates are journeying hither somewhere between this city and Ogden, but the railway officials cannot say at what hour they will arrive. It is expected that 12,000 will get in to-day. Thousands of pieces of baggage are awaiting claimants, and fifteen car loads more are due to arrive to-day.

It is already evident that the convention will be the greatest in the history of the organization.

Troubled by Turkey.

London, July 7.—In the house of commons Tuesday the Marquis of Salisbury, replying to Lord Connemara, said the delay in the settlement of the peace terms between Turkey and Greece was entirely the fault of the former power. There was no delay so far as the concerted powers were concerned, but Turkey had carried deliberation and circumspection to such an excess that the delay was not without danger, though the danger was not immediate. They are apparently at present no nearer to a solution of the question than at the beginning.

Comment of English Papers.

London, July 7.—All the morning papers comment editorially upon the new danger in the Graeco-Turkish situation. The statement of the Marquis of Salisbury in the House of Lords is regarded as extremely grave and as a clear intimation of the readiness of Great Britain to join in active coercion of the sultan.

Conference to Be Held Thursday.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 7.—The joint scale conference of steel sheet manufacturers and workers has been fixed for Thursday in this city. The prospects are regarded as bright for an early settlement of the wage differences.

Mother McKinley Is Better.

Canton, Ohio, July 7.—Mother McKinley is about the house as usual, and apparently suffering no serious effects from her fall. She herself belittles the accident, and says the wound, while still sore, is not paining her, and she will soon entirely recover from it.

American Butter in Australia.

Vancouver, B. C., July 7.—Sixty tons of butter have arrived here from New York and will be forwarded to Sydney by the Warimoo. This is the first shipment of American butter ever sent to Australia.

Locusts Added to Famine.

London, July 7.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Bombay says a plague of locusts in North India threatens to aggravate greatly the sufferings from famine.

COURT TAKES HOLD TO STOP VIOLENCE

STRIKING MINERS WARNED NOT TO INTERFERE.

Injunction Is Ordered—Judge Taft Directs United States Marshal to Protect Men Who Want to Work—Attempt To Stop Shipment of Coal Across Ohio.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 7.—A very important step was taken here Tuesday in connection with the coal miners' strike, which puts the power of the United States against all violence or unlawful acts in at least a portion of the territory in Ohio. An order of the United States Circuit Court, Southern District of Ohio, Eastern division, was made by Judge Taft, upon a showing made by receivers of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway Company and of the Wheeling, Lake Erie and Pittsburg Coal Company, whereby the United States marshall is directed to protect their miners at work and to prevent unlawful interference with the operation of their railway.

The receivers are also directed to immediately file a bill for injunction against all persons engaged in any attempt to interfere with the lawful operation of the mines, or of the railway in their charge, under order of this court.

MANY MINERS GO OUT.

Shipments of Coal Across State of Ohio Threatened.

Columbus, Ohio, July 7.—At Glouster Tuesday a few miners indulged in threats of holding up coal trains. But their local officials kept them quiet by telling them this was coal mined before the strike was declared. However, several of the Glouster men said that if non-union coal mined after July 4 in West Virginia and the Pittsburg district were hauled across Ohio to the lakes they would try to prevent it. As the West Virginia district has paid no attention to the strike, coal probably will continue to be hauled across Ohio. The provocation thus afforded the strikers for retaliation will be hard to resist. The scattered threats, however, are deprecated by President Ratchford and the other officials of the organization here, and they say no violence will be permitted.

National President Ratchford said that he had received reports showing that the greater part of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio was idle, and within a day or two a complete suspension is expected. With Jackson county idle, the Ohio miners will practically be a unit for higher wages, as 23,000 of the 29,000 miners of the state will be holding out for the scale.

From estimates prepared on the basis of coal mined in the year 1895, making allowance for the present conditions, it is believed that the expense of maintaining the strike in the state of Ohio alone will aggregate nearly $60,000 a day. Of this amount the miners lose nearly $17,000, the coal operators $10,000, and the railroad companies $27,000. To this must also be added the decreased earnings of the railroad employes, dock and lake vessel employes, and the profits of retail and wholesale dealers. The total output in Ohio for the year 1895 was 11,000,000 tons in round numbers, an average of 566 tons a miner, which is equal to 1.6 tons a day. It is estimated that 2,500,000 tons of the total output is nut coal, for which the miner receives no pay, and is clear profit for the operator.

The railroads continue to confiscate all the coal along the line, and nearly every road in the state is storing it for its own use.

Indiana for Arbitration.

Indianapolis, July 7.—The Indiana labor arbitration commission has taken the initiative in proposing arbitration of the miners' strike. The two commissioners, B. F. Schfd, representing employers, and L. P. McCormack, representing organized labor, met in special session and decided to invite the labor arbitration commissioners of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois to meet here the latter part of this week, with the view of agreeing upon a proposition of arbitration to be submitted to the operators and miners. Of the states affected by the strike, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania are the only ones that support labor commissions.

Miners Out in Pittsburg District.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 7.—The miners' strike in the Pittsburg district began Tuesday, and the union officials say they are greatly pleased with the first day's showing. District President Patrick Dolan estimated the total number of men out to be nearly 15,000. President Dolan further said the reports from all over the district indicate the strike will be more general than at first supposed.

Not a Mine Being Worked.

Brazil, Ind., July 7.—Not a mine in the county was worked Tuesday, and all the coal left on the side tracks, which was to have been used by the local industries, was appropriated by the railroads. A prominent block coal operator said he believed the miners would be forced to return to work for 54 cents per ton.

Will Take Action Today.

Bloomington, Ill., July 7.—The miners of the McLean County Coal Mining company of this city will hold a mass meeting this evening, at which it will be determined what action will be taken in regard to the order for suspension of work.

FEARS FOR SENATOR HARRIS.

Is Resting Easily To-Day, but His Condition Is Serious.

Washington, July 7.—Senator Harris of Tennessee is resting more easily, but is still considered in a serious condition. The senator is very old and some months ago was prostrated by a severe attack of the grip, complicated by stomach troubles. He subsequently rallied, but never fully regained his strength, and the present attack is regarded with grave apprehension.

SENATOR HARRIS.

Record in Railway Traffic.

Kansas City, July 7.—West bound excursion business during the last five days has bee nthe largest in the history of railroading in this part of the country. A computation made shows that from June 30 to July 4, inclusive the Union Pacific, in addition to its regular service, handled forty-six special trtains. Each train carried an average of 300 passengers, or an aggregate of 13,800 for this line alone. On the Burlington, Santa Fe, Missouri Pacific and Rock Island similarly heavy business was done, the aggregate number of excursionists carried west from here being something over fifty thousand.

Big Stocks of Coal.

Columbus, Ohio, July 7.—A. Brenholz, who managed the home office for the General Hocking Coal company says there is at least 150,000 tons of coal in storage in the northwest. He estimates that this will supply all demands for at least four months, no matter how general the miners' strike becomes. There is considerable coal on the Ohio docks ready for shipment by lake, but this will be held for supplying transient trade. With respect to a supply for the railroads, it is estimated that the different companies have enough coal on hand to last them about six weeks.

Ran Into a Washout.

Woodsville, N. H., July 7.—A freight train on the White mountain division of the Boston and Maine railroad was wrecked by a washout four miles north of this station early Tuesday. Three men were killed and the engine and three cars were badly wrecked. The killed were:

PATRICK LENNON, engineer Whitefield, N. H.

BERT PEBBLES, fireman, Woodsville, N. H.

O. E. LANGE, brakeman, Berlin, N. H.

Walsh Declined to Serve.

Fort Wayne, July 7.—Richard Walsh, who was elected supreme secretary of the Catholic Knights of America, whose duty it is to look after the insurance business of the order, declined to serve and President Feeney of Brooklyn appointed Joseph Carroll of Norfolk, Va., to serve for two years. This appointment was confirmed by the supreme officers in convention here. There are over twenty-five thousand policy holders in the order.

Will Stay at Work in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., July 7.—Chief Mine Inspector J. W. Paul, who has been keeping in touch with the several coal fields in West Virginia, said that there is at present no indication that the miners of this state will go out. "This," he says, "is West Virginia's opportunity to find new markets for coal. If the miners of other neighboring states go out, and there is a suspension of coal production in these states West Virginia can very nearly supply the demand."

Burned the Portuguese Flag.

Monterey, Cal., July 7.—A disturbance was created here over the display of a Portuguese flag beside the American ensign instead of below it over Ortin's grocery store. Patriotic citizens took down the Portuguese flag, but finding it up again removed it and burned it. Ortin has complained to the Portuguese government.

Big Increase in Circulation.

Madrid, July 7.—There is a great deal of comment here on the position of the Bank of Spain. Its note circulation is larger than ever before and it is said to have increased to 19,000,000 pesetas.

Gen. Draper Received at Rome.

Rome, July 7.—Queen Margaret received Gen. William F. Draper, the United States ambassador to Italy, and Mrs. Draper Tuesday afternoon.

A STATE IS SWEPT BY A HOWLING GALE

TOWN OF LOWRY LEVELED BY THE WIND.

Ten Deaths Are Reported—The Storm Strikes the Town at 6 O'Clock on Tuesday Night and Demolishes Everything In Its Path—Many Persons Seriously Injured.

Duluth, Minn., July 7.—Dispatches received here at railroad offices say that a cyclone has obliterated the town of Lowry, Minn., and that possibly ten people were killed and several injured.

Lowry is situated on the Soo line, seven miles from Glenwood, on the Northern Pacific railroad. Particulars are meager, but it is learned that the cyclone traveled from southwest to northwest, and that the little town of Lowry was in the track of the cloud.

The second report is that seven persons were killed and many were injured, while another is that four were killed.

The cyclone struck Lowry shortly after 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Evidences of the cyclonic cloud were seen in Duluth about 7 o'clock. The sky was overcast with clouds that circled as they moved rapidly northeast, and there was a yellow cast that was ascribed to the sun penetrating through them. People looked in wonder on the scene, but nobody ascribed the conditions to a cyclone. The clouds moved high in the air and circled with a perfectly steady motion.

FATAL WRECK IN PITTSBURG.

Street Cars Collide With Severe Injuries to Passengers.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 7.—Four people were fatally injured and eighteen or twenty others were hurt in a street-car wreck Tuesday night on the Forbes street line of the Consolidated traction company. The names of those seriously injured are:

MICHAEL DOYLE, motorman, top of head torn away; two ribs and a leg broken; will die.

W. A. MANLEY, employed in the circulating department of the Times, scalp laid bare and hurt internally; will probably die.

MISS SMITH, skull fractured; will die.

C. C. ROGERS, leg and arm broken and hurt internally; will die.

MRS. MARY H. WILSON, Arch street, Allegheny, two ribs, right leg and left ankle broken; may recover.

Slightly injured: Edward Biersch, Mrs. Edward Biersch, W. H. Eisenbeis, John McElroy, Henry McHenry, John Carr, Miss Alice Mooney, Miss Carrie Keightlinger, Joseph Mackie, Peter Fay, Miss Lizzie Smith, Miss Annie Smith, two unknown women, one unknown man, John Hoover, Edward Kinney.

The wreck occurred on the Soho hill at the time when the immense crowds which attended the fireworks display at Schenley park were returning home. An Atwood street car had gone about half-way down the hill when it jumped the track. Closely following it came an open summer car with a trailer, both densely packed with people. Before the second train could be stopped it crashed into the derailed car. Hardly had the first collision happened before a third car, heavily laden, came down the hill at full speed and forced its way into the wreck ahead. It was the second crash that did most of the damage.

Nine Killed by An Explosion.

Hartsville, Tenn., July 7.—A boiler explosion occurred on the farm of W. A. Allen Tuesday afternoon, by which nine people were instantly killed and five badly injured. The dead: W. A. Allen, James Allen, Lindsey Allen, Mock Turnstill, Asa Barr, Porter Averitt, John Bolton, Len Barksdale, Will Allen.

The wounded: Calhoun, Stone, leg broken in two places; George Dice, badly scalded and mangled, will die; John Foley, colored, badly mangled, will die; Albert Foley, colored, badly injured, may recover; Sam Wheeler, colored, leg broken.

Mr. Allen and his men were just concluding the work of threshing wheat, and were preparing to leave the field when the explosion occurred, from what cause is not known.

Rabbis Meet in Montreal.

Montreal, Que., July 7.—A remarkable gathering of Hebrew scholars met at the Temple Emanu-El Tuesday night, on the occasion of the eighth annual conference of American rabbis. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Sir Adolphe Chapleau, lieutenant governor of Quebec; by the Hon. J. I. Tart, on behalf of the dominion government; by the Hon. Dr. Guerin, on behalf of the provincial government, and by the mayor on behalf of the city. The annual address was delivered by Dr. Wise, the president.

Gold Standard for Peru.

Lima, Peru, July 7.—Gen. Peirola has revised a plan to establish the gold standard for the currency of Peru. His project will be submitted to congress at its next session—probably in August.

Henri Meilhac Is Dead.

Paris, July 7.—Henri Meilhac, the noted dramatic author and member of the French academy, is dead from congestion of the brain.

MAKE A CONTRACT WITH MR. NORCROSS

COMMON COUNCIL COMMITTEE REPORT ACCEPTED.

Offers Same Rate Made by the Janesville Light & Power Company's Bid—Mayor Instructed To Sign the Agreement—Can't Afford Sewerage System—Saloon Licenses Granted

A busy session of the common council was held last night, at which the aldermen voted to:

Let the contract to light the city to Pliny Norcross at $65 per light, he to give bonds and light the city buildings free.

Received the report of the sewerage committee recommending that nothing be done in the matter in order to save expense.

Granted forty saloon licenses and eight druggists' permits.

Voted to appropriate $23,000 for the maintenance of the city schools.

Paid bills, ordered new sidewalks, etc., etc.

Alderman McLean was the only absentee. Clerk Badger presented forty applications for saloon license. They were referred to the license committee; while the bonds were referred to the judiciary committee. The reports of both committees were favorable and the licenses were granted. Chairman Stoddard, of the license committee also reported in favor of granting the druggist permits as asked for. The report was adopted.

Pay City Notes.

Alderman Burnham from the finance committee, introduced an order authorizing the city clerk to draw an order on the treasurer, payable from the general fund in favor of the Bower City bank for $3,510 51; also an order payable from the fire and water fund in favor of the Bower City bank for $2,512.50 the above amounts being principal and interest on city notes, Nos. 22 and 23. Adopted.

Mayor Thoroughgood announced that he should refuse to act as arbitrator between the saloons and the police, saying that he would make the announcement at this time because new licenses were being granted.

Publish Vacation Notice.

Ald. Miltimore introduced an order directing the city clerk to publish a notice that at the regular meeting of the common council to be held on July 26, 1897, the council will act upon the application of W. H. Palmer to vacate Wesley street, Baker street, and that part of Frost avenue, Adams avenue and Carle avenue lying south of State street, formerly McGrew street, in Hamilton's addition to the city of Janesville, Wis. The other notice had not been legally published, he said. The order was adopted.

Alderman Miltimore's motion that the street sprinklers be given the same pay as last year, was adopted.

Reject All Lighting Bids.

Chairman Jones of the lighting committee, presented the committee's report as follows:

The lighting committee, to whom was referred the matter of bids for city lighting, beg leave to report:

That the said committee after considering the various bids for street lighting, concluded to reject all bids offered, and to report for adoption the following resolution instead, to-wit:

Resolved that the mayor be authorized and directed to make a contract with Pliny Norcross, of this city, for the continuation of the 156 arc lights now in use in this city for the period of three years from July 10, 1897, with the following changes:

That each of said lamps shall be lighted every night during the said three years, from one-half hour after sundown until one-half hour before sunrise, and that the price to be paid therefor shall be $65 (sixty-five dollars) for each lamp so lighted, and each additional lamp, per year, and that payments for such service shall be made monthly, as heretofore, and that Mr. Norcross also agrees to light with incandescent lamps without extra charge to the city, both engine houses, and the rooms used by the city for city clerk and treasurer and the common council, the city to wire the buildings, and that Mr. Norcross file a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000). for the faithful performance of said contract on his part.

W. H. JONES,
S. C. BURNHAM,
W. S. RICE,
GEO. M. MCKEY,
F. H. KCTHMAN.

Ignore Loring's Proposition.

Alderman Jones moved the adoption of the report, and as the mayor was about to put the motion, George G. Sutherland asked the right to speak. None of the aldermen moved to grant the request, but Mayor Thoroughgood said Mr. Sutherland would be heard.

"The council has advertised for bids. The competition is open to the world. Is there anything more favorable to the city in the agreement recommended by this committee, than was offered by one of the bidders?"

No one answered Mr. Sutherland's question and Mayor Thoroughgood ordered the roll called.

Before the names could be called, however, Mr. Sutherland again arose. He said that Mr. Loring had authorized him to say that the Janesvill Light & Power Company would furnish the lights at $60 per year.

Mayor Thoroughgood—"Is there any alderman who has anything to say? If not, the clerk will proceed to call the roll." None of the aldermen arose so the roll was called, all the aldermen voting aye.

Chairman Gilkey, of the sewerage committee, made a report, which will be found elsewhere.

Money for the Schools.

Ald. Fifield, from the committee on schools, reported that the committee having examined the statement of the board of education as certified to the council in relation to the amount of money required for school purposes for the ensuing year, recommended that said statement be placed on file and that there be appropriated for school purposes for said year the sum of $23,000. Adopted.

The report of the license committee was received, and the licenses were granted, after which the following orders were adopted:

By Ald. Kothman—To build a new sidewalk in front of lot No. 40, Doe's addition, on High street.

By Ald. Gilkey—To build new sidewalks in front of lots 2, 3, 4 and 6, Norton's addition, on Racine street; lots 8, 10, 11, 12 and 13, Glenetta addition, on Glenetta street; also lot 4, block 16, original plat on Division street; also to build block crosswalk across South Second street, on the west side of Park street and across Forest Park boulevard on the north side of Racine street from the east side of Forest Park boulevard to east side of Glenetta street.

Some Other Orders.

By Alderman McKey—To repair South Second street; also Division street from South Second to South Third, under the direction of the aldermen of the ward.

By Alderman Rice—To clean out the gutters on North River street; also the gutter on the west side of Washington street from Highland avenue to Magnolia avenue.

By Alderman Fifield—For new sidewalks in front of the lot at the southwest intersection of Wall and North River streets upon said streets.

By Alderman Miltimore—For a new sidewalk in front of lot 7, block 3, Palmer & Sutherland's addition.

THEY WILL NOT PUT IN SEWERS

The Committee Report in Favor of Postponing the Matter.

At the meeting of the council held last evening, Chairman Gilkey of the sewerage committee, made the following report:

"The committee on sewers having had under consideration the question of putting in a system of sewers, report that we are confronted at the outset with the question as to whether sewers should be put in at all under the plan adopted by the city several years ago. Under this plan discharging sewers empty into Rock river on the east side at Prospect avenue; at Court street, at a point between South Third and Racine streets; at Racine street and at Sharon street; and on the West side at Dodge and Jackson streets, and at Center avenue. Seven of these points are between the two dams; the other is immediately below the lower dam, but all are at such locations that for a large part of the year the sewerage discharged into the stream would be practically unaffected by any current. This plan, as we understand, was made at a time when there was a fair amount of running water in Rock river through the entire year. For the past five years there has been but little, if any current between the two dams during the summer and fall. The condition of the river with the small amount of sewerage now discharged into it is bad; and to make the stream between the dams the receptacle of practically the entire sewage of the city would, in our judgment, create conditions dangerous to the health of the entire community.

"It is the judgment also of your committee that the present season is not an opportune time for embarking upon any extended system of public improvement. The times are too hard, in our opinion, to warrant the city government in placing upon the people the heavy expense incident to such improvement. If the work of sewerage was started upon it would increase the measure of taxation beyond the means of our people, and we do not feel warranted, in view of the fact that money is hard to get and that taxes must be paid, in recommending any course that would add to the burden of the taxpayer.

"It has been suggested that this work of sewering the city would furnish employment to local laborers who are needing employment. It must be borne in mind, however, that work of this nature must be let upon contract, that but a small proportion of the laboring men of this city are trained to work of this kind, and that the plan has always failed here as elsewhere of trying to hold contractors down to the employment of local labor.

"We recognize the importance of the letters written by the various physicians of the city to the mayor, and would not take issue with them. Still there is not a uniformity of opinion among the physicians as to the present need of sewerage. The health of this city is good, better than that of other cities in this state that have spent large sums upon sewerage. We do not believe that there is any urgent need for improvement of this kind at the present time, and in view of the fact that in hard times economy is as essential in public as in private affairs, we recommend that the common council take no action for the present in this matter other than to determine whether plans for the disposal of sewerage, other and better than those we now have, may not be available. And in submitting this report to the council we believe that we have the full approbation of the mayor on the ground we feel compelled to assume."

FINE FARM RESIDENCE IS FOOD FOR FLAMES.

Building and Nearly All the Contents Are Destroyed, the Neighbors Being Unable To Save Much—The Loss Will Be Quite Heavy—Some County News Notes.

Evansville, July 7—M. M. Finneran's handsome new farm residence and nearly all of its contents, located about five miles south of this city, burned to the ground Saturday. This is a sad loss to Mr. Finneran, as his dwelling was nearly new, only being built about two years, and its contents consisted of many valuable family keepsakes which can never be replaced. Mr. Finneran says that great credit is due Ira Jones for his valuable assistance in saving what they did.

SOME NEWS FROM AFTON TOWN

Baptist Y. P. S. C. E. Elect Officers for the Next Six Months.

Afton, July 7—Officers for the ensuing six months were elected by the Baptist Y. P. S. C. E. last Sunday evening as follows: President, David Throne; vice president, Alice Humphrey; recording secretary, U. G. Waite; corresponding secretary, (one year), Alice Eldredge; treasurer, J. F. Bolte. The society is in a prosperous condition. A very enjoyable and pleasant affair was the concert and supper given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, at the residence of J. B. Humphrey last Thursday evening. The young ladies' quartette of Beloit, consisting of Misses Cora Pollock, Myrtle Miller, Ethel Morris and Minnie Pierce rendered some very pleasing selections both vocal and instrumental, in their presentation of the musical program, while a very nice supper was served by the ladies of the society. Visitors were present from Janesville, Beloit and Shopiere. U. G Waite has just received notice, from the office of the State Forest Warden, of his appointment as Fire Warden for the town of Rock. "Our Country; Its Privileges and Its Perils," was the suggestive title of Pastor McCaw's discourse at the Baptist church last Sunday evening, and it was handled in the usual masterly way. "Old Glory" was displayed by several of our residents last Monday in honor of the "Fourth," a very commendable proceeding and one that should grow. Harry E McCrea was down from Antigo to spend the Fourth with Afton relatives. Superintendent David Throne is in attendance at the meeting of the National Educator's association, which is being held at Milwaukee this week. Lyman H Miller is spending a few days with relatives at Ripon. Rev. Clarence B. Antisdel of Chicago, has been visiting relatives in this vicinity during the past week. He occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday morning.

MEETING OF THE GAS COMPANY

Hiram Merrill Reelected President and Louise Merrill Secretary

The annual meeting of the New Gas Light Company was held yesterday. At the stockholders' meeting directors were elected as follows: Hiram Merrill, Louise Merrill and Mary B. Merrill.

The directors then met and reelected the old officers as follows:

President—Hiram Merrill.
Secretary—Louise Merrill.
Superintendent—Ira F. Wortendyke.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

IT IS IN THIRTY SECTIONS.

Ringling Bros.' Circus Parade Surpasses Anything Ever Seen.

The famous Ringling Bros. whose World's Greatest Shows come to Janesville Friday, July 16, have this year revolutionized the circus business by inaugurating a magnificent street spectacle, which is presented as a free offering to the public on a scale of magnitude and grandure such as no amusement management has ever before attempted. Instead of the conventional street parade with which circus goers are familiar, Ringling Bros. have organized an elaborate carniva , consisting of thirty huge se tions, each of which is representative of some distinct national characteristic or of some age or era in the history of the world. Although combined in one gorgeous procession, each section is a separate and distinct division, and worthy of minute inspection. Among the most striking scenes is that devoted to India, representing scenes of warfare in the Punjaub, huge elephants harnessed to rumbling siege guns, mounted military escorts; dark-hued East Indian chiefs, brilliantly uniformed native military, guides, attendants and commanding officers. Then there are correct representatives of all the most crack military organizations of the world, brilliantly uniformed, handsomely mounted and with their burnished accoutrements glittering in the sunlight like burnished gold and silver. The reproduction of the Derby day is a revelation to lovers of fine stock and swell turnouts. The striking features of the famous English meet are represented by hundreds of leading artists and performers, dressed in the latest London modes, and giving a most interesting and imposing representation of the heavy swelldom of English society. The immense Tally-hos, the spider rigs and dainty T-carts used in this section alone represent a munificent expenditure, beyond the reach of any other show in the world, while even the great Derby day meet itself could not bring together so magnificent a display of blooded racing stock. An Egyptian caravan, crossing the Sahara, with its camels, dromedaries, wiry Arabian horses, Beduoins of the desert Soudanese, Algerians and other strange people from Northern Africa, brings that land of mystic interest close to the spectators vision. The special children's sections with its prancing ponies, children's tableaux, children's hippodrome and miniature cages of rare wild beasts is a delight to the younger element, while the glimpses of imperial splendor given in the ancient Roman section, and the numberless new, novel and startling features in the other sections, including ten bands of music and over 100 tableau cars, dens and open cages of rare wild beasts, all combine to make this the most remarkable display of exhibitional wealth and magnificent originality the world has ever seen.

An Important Function Stimulated.

The kidneys exercise most important functions, which are so wearisome that they tax to the utmost the strength and endurance of these busy little organs. Every, breath, every pulsation of the heart, every movement of a limb, every thought, makes waste, and necessitates the development of new atoms. The used up particles in the blood are sifted from it, and dissolved in a watery fluid by the kidneys, which then discharge this fluid into the bladder. A train of disasters to the system would follow if these "ashes," so to speak were not thoroughly strained off and discharged. This is the case when the kidneys become inactive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by restoring their activity, not only keeps open a most important outlet for impurities but prevents diseases of the kidneys themselves, which when inert become liable to fall a prey to diabetes, Bright's disease, nephritis, albumanuria, and other maladies especially incident them, which, although not especially rapid in their progression, are particularly obstinate and fatal.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

When You Get Ready.

When you have consulted everybody else and have been treated for every known and unknown disease; when you have filled your system with one-pattern, ready-made, same-for-all, sure-cure preparations; when you have tried charms, spells, fakes, fads and fancies; if experience has taught you that Nature alone possesses the power to heal; that certain remedies assist Nature, but none of them cure; that it is better to work with Nature than to fight the disease; that the surest way to cure disease is to remove the cause of that disease, then we will gladly assist you with Rational remedies and methods which tend to build up and strengthen the entire system until Nature can assert herself and the Cause of disease is removed.

We treat the Patient, not the disease. This is one reason why we succeed where others have failed.

We have been in Janesville more than ten months and are here to stay. Consultation, opinion and advice free.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1807—Napoleon Bonaparte and the czar of Russia concluded the peace of Tilsit. After Napoleon's victory at Friedland he met for the first time the Emperor Alexander on a raft in the middle of the Niemau. By the treaty Prussia lost half of her possessions.

1882—General Michael Dimitrievitch Skobeleff, distinguished Russian commander, died in Moscow, Russia; born 1843.

1893—Justice Samuel Blatchford of the United States supreme court died at Newport, R. I.; born 1820.

1895—Terrific storms on Lake Michigan and at Chicago; many deaths.

1896—Sallie Ward Downs, once a noted Kentucky belle, died in Louisville; born 1836. George Law, capitalist and projector, son of George Law of Panama fame, died in New York city; born 1843.

DEBS AND ALTGELD.

Altgeld's speech gives us a chance to distinguish between him and Debs. The two are equally radical; but Altgeld is especially selfish, while Debs with all his fanaticism, seems more disinterested. Altgeld's very selfishness offers some guarantee of safety to the public. A man intent on personal advantage must have a thought to the outcome of his schemes. In just that measure he will be moved to prudence.

From Eugene Debs' make-up prudence is missing.

He has more than an average share of the qualities most undesirable in an active social reformer. but he is himself as yet oblivious to the fact.

In the first place he is reckless in controversy. He is not a cool adviser. His appeals are to passion, and he prefers sensational novelty to precedent. By nature he is seditious and looks with something of disdain on all established government. The world has existed a long time, and its systems of civil order have been developed by thought and effort through many generations. Nevertheless, Mr. Debs is under the impression that he can take his pencil and map out something better in the course of a few sittings, and is willing to hazard the welfare of 300,000 men on the correctness of his theories.

In considering the Debs plan this must be remembered: The members of his colony will not be men in love with steady labor and slow returns. They will not yield obedience without a special inducement for it each time. When their passions and sense of utter independence have been sufficiently cultivated they will turn against their leader and demand that his promises be redeemed. Debs will not find it easy to slip out of that crisis with a speech.

A STEADY GROWTH.

Every day brings the tariff bill nearer completion. Increased railroad earnings and bright crop prospects give additional buoyancy to the business situation. Moreover, the country's currency system is no longer endangered. Last November's election settled, as everybody could see, the question that every sort of a dollar in use in this country would be held up to the gold level for four years more at least. This banishment of the debased silver peril was the indispensable condition precedent to the restoration of business confidence, and an industrial revival under such circumstances could not be delayed many months. The revival, indeed, began immediately after the result of the election was made known and it has been in progress ever since. A midsummer dullness must be expected for the next two months but with the doubt as to tariff rates removed there will remain no bar to a large and satisfactory fall trade.

This is a great country and is growing a crop this year which promises to be in many respects a record breaker. All accounts practically agree that the west and south are casting off their fit of the blues and that business in those sections is to be greatly increased by a large movement of agricultural products. When the villages are well fed by the farmers the cities soon feel the effects. It may require a little patience to get all the machinery of the country in motion again, but there certainly has seldom been a summer season when looking forward there was more light in the sky than now.

Queen Victoria's slowness about letting go leads Albert Victor Christian Edward of Wales to fear his royal mother's hands have become cramped.

The commercial reports for the week tell of the beginning of vacation dulness but report fall prospects as very bright.

Tammany has sense enough to be wary of the Chicago platform in the Greater New York campaign this year.

The shower that wets but does not refrigerate, is the kind we have these days.

An Author as a Diplomat.

Judge Albion W. Tourgee, our new consul at Bordeaux, is probably most widely known to Americans as the author of that popular novel, "A Fool's Errand," and other similar stories. Albion Winegar Tourgee was the son of an Ohio farmer and was born in 1838. He was a student at the Rochester acad-

President McKinley's Summer Home.

President McKinley has picked out for his summer home an estate about seven miles southwest of Washington known by the pleasant name of Cherry Farm. The property is owned by ex-Senator Henderson of Missouri, who purchased it about four years ago. Cherry Farm is a most picturesque and secluded place. It is reached by a narrow lane which leads from the main road about half a mile below the village of Ballston. The house is a two story affair with wide verandas and surrounded by a big fruit orchard. There is also a neat little cottage for Private Secretary Porter.

A Distinguished Prelate.

Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, in whose honor jubilee services were recently held in that city on the completion of the twenty-fifth year since he was created a bishop, is one of the most eloquent ecclesiastics of the Catholic church in America. He was born in the little Irish village of Cloneyharp, County Tipperary, Feb. 20, 1831. At 21 he was ordained a subdeacon and soon after came to America to do missionary work. In 1866 he was appointed rector of St. John's church in St. Louis and later he was made vicar general. In 1872 he was consecrated bishop.

Baby Harrison Doesn't Cry.

Among the few babies which the nation feels itself at liberty to take a deep interest in is Miss Elizabeth Harrison. The young lady who is now one of the most important members of the ex-president's household has been a resident of Indiana for only a short time, but the whole state is proud of her. Little McKinley Returns from Canton.

Washington, July 7.—President McKinley and his party returned from Canton at 1:47 Tuesday afternoon on the regular train over the Pennsylvania railroad. The president suffered considerably from the heat and evidently was fatigued from the journey. Mrs. McKinley stood the journey better, and smiled pleasantly as she and her husband greeted those about them.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Trouble, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble.

Within a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectually restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living.

AN OPEN LETTER

From Miss Sachner, of Columbus, O., to Ailing Women.

To all women who are ill:—It affords me great pleasure to tell you of the benefit I have derived from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I can hardly find words to express my gratitude for the boon given to suffering women in that excellent remedy. Before taking the Compound I was thin, sallow, and nervous. I was troubled with leucorrhœa, and my menstrual periods were very irregular. I tried three physicians and gradually grew worse. About a year ago I was advised by a friend to try Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and Vegetable Compound, which I did. After using three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and one package of Sanative Wash, I am now enjoying better health than I ever did, and attribute the same to your wonderful remedies. I cannot find words to express what a Godsend they have been to me.

Whenever I begin to feel nervous and ill, I know I have a never-failing physician at hand. It would afford me pleasure to know that my words had directed some suffering sister to health and strength through those most excellent remedies.—Miss May Sachner, 348½ E. Rich St., Columbus, O.

A HOT FIRE RAGES ON SCHEER'S FARM

BUILDINGS, CATTLE, GRAIN AND TOOLS BURN.

Wife of the Owner Painfully Blistered and Bruised While Trying To Save the Horses—Crazy Beast Kicked Her—Fireworks Caused the Fire—Loss Is Heavy,

Fireworks in the hands of boys caused a serious conflagration on the Otto Scheer farm in the town of Center.

Mrs. Scheer, in her attempts to save one of the horses from a burning barn, was severely burned about the body and limbs.

The fire resulted from children's playing with lighted fireworks on the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Scheer were formerly residents of this city. Five years ago they moved from this city to the farm. As he is a hard working and industrious man Mr Scheer has the respect of his neighbors and fellow citizens and by strict attention to business he has become the possessor of a fine farm On the premises is a large general barn in which a portion of the machinery, hay and live stock are kept, and it was in this barn that the fire started. In a very short time the whole structure was enveloped in flames, and the frightened boys rushed into the house yelling at the top of their voices.

Mrs. Scheer Burned.

Mrs. Scheer was alone at the time her husband having left the farm but a short time before on an errand. Realizing that there were cattle and horses stabled in the burning structure Mrs. Scheer rushed to their assistance. She at once commenced to liberate a colt that was tied in one of the stalls. The flames were cracking about on all sides and the smoke had already worked its way from one end of the stable to the other and frightening the horses and cattle so that they refused to move a foot. While working hard to liberate the beast, Mrs. Scheer was badly burned as well as being painfully bruised by being kicked by the crazed beast. She was removed to the house and medical aid summoned and for a time it was feared that her burns might prove fatal.

The structure with the greater portion of its contents including cattle, hay and machinery were totally destroyed. The amount of the insurance is unknown.

ATTORNEY MAHONEY TO LEAVE

He Will Locate In Louisiana in Search of Health.

Attorney J. L. Mahoney will leave this evening for Port Arthur, La., where he expects to make his future home. The severe winters of Wisconsin have been a tax on Mr. Mahoney's strength, and physicians predict a severe affection of the lungs unless he seeks a milder climate. Being well acquainted with several Port Arthur firms, Mr. Mahoney has decided to visit that place with the idea of locating there.

Mr. Mahoney came to Janesville a few years ago to defend murderer Whalen. He was much taken with this city, and soon came here to live. Although a stranger in the city he at once commanded a large practice and has been one of the most successful attorneys in Janesville. He regrets very much that he must leave Janesville but feels that his health demands the charge. His many friends will be sorry to know that he has arrived at this conclusion and will extend well wishes for the future.

J. J. Cunningham, Mr. Mahoney's former partner will continue to practice his profession here, retaining the Pheobus block office.

MURDERER BUTLER CAUGHT

Town of Lisbon Butcher Is Captured Near Delafield--Admits Crime

Milwaukee, July 7—[Special]—James Butler, the man who murdered his wife in such a brutal manner at the home of her son in the town of Lisbon, Monday night, was captured by William Kuntz and his hired man early this morning in a barn near Delafield. He admits his crime, but seems little concerned about it. Butler was only caught after a hard chase. A posse of citizens had been scouring the country for him. It was reported yesterday that Butler had crossed Pewaukee Lake in one of the steamers, but an investigation proved that he had not been seen there. It was also believed that Butler was hiding in one of the swamps. The citizens were much excited and said they would lynch him if he was caught. Violence is not feared now.

JANESVILLE COMPANY ASKS FOR A CHARTER.

Local Business Men Are Interested and Lights Will Be Furnished Within Thirty Days—-Monterey Power Plant To Be Rebuilt and Improved—Cost About $7,000.

The Janesville Light and Power company today applied for their charter, which means that the work of building the new electric light plant will be commenced within the next few days. Officers will be elected at a special meeting to be held in this city next Monday.

Local business men will be prominently identified with the new concern and Charles B. Conrad will be the president of the company.

Manager Charles T. Loring said today that to put the plant in running order will require a total outlay of about $7,000 The intention is to erect a power house at Monterey on or about the same site that the house once used by the Bower City Light and Power company was erected. The present flume will be widened and improved so that water and steam may be used for power. To complete these plans will require about sixty days time, but within thirty days time, Manager Loring says he will have electric lights in use here, so that the public may judge for themselves the kind of light that he proposes to furnish.

"This evening I leave for Chicago," remarked Mr. Loring. "All the men employed to do the greater portion of the work will be residents of this city, although experts from Chicago will superintend the construction."

FEW SALES OF LEAF ARE MADE

Editor Willey Says the Leaf Trade Is Rather Quiet

During a tour of local tobacco warehouses yesterday J. F. Willey, editor of the Wisconsin Tobacco Leaf, failed to learn of any large sales that have taken place here since the last report. The largest and most important sale was made by A. N. Jones to eastern parties and included 226 cases of '94 and '96 goods. F. S. Baines has sold fifty cases of tobacco to Denver parties, while George H. Rumrill has disposed of twenty-six to Chicago dealers. The other sales were of minor importance.

Just Shrewd Judgment.

HARRIS THOUGHT IT A JOKE.

Says He Didn't "Sass" the Railroad Men, But Asked Questions.

Charles Harris, who was struck on the head yesterday with a pick-ax handle by a railroad section boss, says that he thought the man was "just fooling." Mr. Harris was released from jail last evening, and said today that he did not "sass" the section boss but that he was assaulted because he stopped long enough to ask the workmen a few questions. Mr. Harris said that he supposed it was all a joke until he received the third blow.

SUE MISSING MAN AFTER LONG WAIT

MRS. H S. WOOD NOW WANTS A DIVORCE.

Husband Left Home a Year Ago, and Nothing Has Been Heard From Him Since He Kissed His Wife and Children Good Bye on That Eventful Day.

When Harvey S. Wood, a farmer of the town of Magnolia, kissed his wife and two children good bye early one morning a year ago, it was not thought that the parting was the final one.

But it was

Just twelve months ago he left, and during all these dreary days, weeks and months, not a single word has been sent home, nor has there ever been offered a single clew as to his whereabouts.

After trying to figure out why a father and husband whose home was so happy should do such a thing, the wife has at last come to the conclusion that he has deserted her. For this reason, on the grounds of desertion, Mrs. Wood, through her attorney, J. J. Cunningham, will soon apply for a divorce in the circuit court of Rock county. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married but a few years ago and lived on a farm in the town of Magnolia. The fact that Mr. Wood kissed his wife and children good bye on the morning he left does not add to the mystery, for it is said that he was in the habit of doing this when he went away. Neighbors do not suspect foul play, but think that Wood left home during a melancholy spell, There is little doubt but what the divorce will be granted to Mrs. Wood unless the long lost husband chances to show up within the next few days.

CENTERED.

To each man's life there comes a time supreme—
One day, one night, one morning, or one noon,
One freighted hour, one moment opportune
One rift through which sublime fulfillments gleam,
One space when fate goes tiding with the stream,
One once, in balance 'twixt too late, too soon,
And ready for the passing instant's boon
To tip in favor the uncertain beam.
Ah, happy he who, knowing how to wait,
Knows also how to watch and work and stand
On life's broad deck alert, and at the prow
To seize the passing moment, big with fate,
From opportunity's extended hand,
When the great clock of destiny strikes now!
—Mary A. Townsend.

"THE PARISIAN."

In the regiment he was certainly not a favorite with the officers, but he always managed to get along very well with his fellow soldiers, for he was so lively and had such a fund of ready wit. He had scarcely had any education, as he was apprenticed at a very early age, but he had read a great deal—everything, in fact, that he had been able to get hold of—novels, newspapers, books of travel and adventure, all kinds and sorts of literature, and as he had an excellent memory he was certainly capital company.

Then, too, he could sing fairly well, he recited like a born actor, and he was always up to the most irresistible nonsense, so that he was the very life and soul of the regiment. He had been nicknamed by his fellow soldiers, on account of his liveliness and wit, "the Parisian," and no one ever thought of calling him by any other name. As far as discipline was concerned, he was a very second rate sort of soldier, for nothing had ever been able to persuade him that he owed implicit and passive obedience to the officers, of no matter what rank they might be.

On the other hand, he kept his uniform and his arms in the most immaculate state of cleanliness, he was a first class shot and could march any distance. When it was announced in his regiment that volunteers were wanted for Tonquin, he enrolled himself without a moment's hesitation, for, as he said, he had always wanted to have a look around in other countries. On board the Mytho, the vessel which transported the troops, he very soon made himself quite at home.

In the first place, he managed to get himself employed down in the kitchen, and in a very short time was the favorite of the head cook.

Then, when he was off duty, he would install himself comfortably in the forecastle, and, while smoking cigarettes made with tobacco contributed by the sailors, he would entertain his audience by reciting monologues and by imitating the Parisian street cries of the various hawkers.

He was wonderfully clever, too, at imitating people and animals, and he had baptized everything and every one on board with the drollest of names of his own invention, so that even the officer leaning over the bridge during the watch would often roar with laughter at the absurd nonsense going on down below.

For six months the Parisian had been incorporated in one of the companies of a marching regiment, and there had been some hard fighting several times, but so far, as he himself said, "he had kept his skin whole," and, what was more extraordinary, he had escaped all fevers and illness of every kind. He was just as lively as when in France, and many a time his gayety had put new courage into some of the younger soldiers.

His superiors appreciated his bravery and sang froid when under fire and the happy way he had of making the best of all kinds of privations and fatigue.

"He's a fine soldier," remarked his lieutenant one day to the captain, but the latter, who had noticed his tendency to insubordination, answered:

"Yes, a fine soldier during the campaign, but a bad one in the barracks—a headstrong fellow to deal with."

A little later on a detachment of the regiment was told off to occupy an isolated point of observation near the banks of the Song-Cau. For some time the country round had appeared quite calm and peaceful, and, as the guards were on duty as sentinels, the soldiers had for the time being neither fatigue nor privations to endure.

In order that their inaction should not have a demoralizing effect on the men, the officer in command saw fit to occupy them in various ways, such as digging trenches, collecting fagots and all kinds of details connected with their temporary encampment. One afternoon a section of the troop was engaged in clearing out the quarters, under the direction of Sergeant Butin.

The Parisian had never been able to reconcile himself to handling the pickax, and generally he passed his time in looking on while his comrades did the work, and as he always kept them entertained with his jokes and nonsense neither the men nor the subofficer in command had ever made any difficulty about this. As it happened, though, on the afternoon in question Sergeant Butin was in a very bad humor, for he had that morning been hauled over the coals himself by his superior officer.

On seeing the Parisian, therefore, seated on the ground making a cigarette, he called out to him roughly to take his place and work as the others were doing.

"Oh, they'll get through it without me," he urged.

"Take your place," said the sergeant roughly.

"But, sergeant, I assure you my trade is in metal work, and I don't know how to go about turning the soil over."

The sergeant was furious, and seizing the soldier by his arm thundered out:

"Enough of your foolery, and you can take a day's prison for a change."

With one bound the Parisian was on his feet and had shaken himself free from the sergeant. He was livid with indignation, and there was no sign of joking about him now. He stepped up close to the subofficer, and looking him straight in the face said simply, but in a hoarse voice:

"Never lay your finger on me again, or—look out for yourself!"

The sergeant, exasperated, laid hold of him again, shouting:

"To prison with you, and we'll see"—

He did not finish his sentence, for the Parisian raised his hand and dealt him a blow on the cheek, and while the sergeant stood there as though rooted to the spot, wild with rage and stuttering out threats of vengeance, the soldier, without even throwing away his cigarette, moved away slowly toward his comrades, murmuring in a low voice:

"I knew it would come to that sooner or later."

* * * * * * * *

The Parisian was imprisoned while waiting his trial by court martial. The captain, on hearing of what serious misdemeanor he had been guilty, judged it necessary to make an example of him, and so he was sentenced to await in prison the day of his trial at Hanoi.

He made the best of his situation, and when he answered the questions which were put to him by the officer who had been appointed to make the preliminary inquiries about the affair he appeared to be quite resigned to whatever fate might be awaiting him.

It happened to be the lieutenant in command of the section to which the Parisian belonged, and, though he was sorry in his heart for the culprit, the officer knew that military discipline had to be maintained, particularly during a campaign.

One night toward 10 o'clock firing was heard in the distance, and almost at the same moment the sentinels gave the alarm to the little troop. Then, all at once, a fierce, deafening volley of firing was heard, and fearful shouts and yelling seemed to come from all sides at once.

In a few seconds every man of the little company was on foot, and, with his gun placed in the gap of the bamboo palings, was firing recklessly on the enemy, who had surrounded the fort. At the very first shot the Parisian, knowing that under present circumstances no one would trouble about him, escaped from his prison, rushed for a gun and cartridges and, mounting the slope, began to fire with all his energy.

His lieutenant in passing by recognized him and said:

"That's right, my good fellow. Get wounded, and I'll answer for your other affair."

"I'm sure to, lieutenant," answered the trooper, smiling bitterly, and then, without troubling himself about the balls which fell around him thick and fast, the Parisian continued shooting. It was very evident that his one desire was to meet his death there rather than to be shot dead by his comrades by order of the court martial.

After an hour's desperate firing the assailants, numerous though they were, gave up their attempt to take the post and beat a retreat in all directions. The captain, wishing to teach them a lesson, went out in pursuit of them with part of his troop, and, following them up across the ricefields, caused them a considerable loss of men.

Then, on seeing that he was himself some 500 yards outside the fort and fearing to have his retreat cut off, he gave the order to return. On arriving within their own fortifications and after having the gate closed securely, he kept his men in their ranks.

"Sergeant Butin," he said, "call over the names."

The sergeant did not appear in answer to his chief's command, and a shudder of horror ran through the little troop. If he were still out on the plain! * * * The enemy never had mercy, and prisoners and wounded would have to endure a long and cruel martyrdom before death released them. * * * The soldiers disbanded, and search was made everywhere within the camp, and then a little band of men went round outside the fortifications.

It was all in vain. Sergeant Butin had not returned with the others, and soldiers and officers all hoped that, at any rate, he had been killed outright—shot through the heart by a ball.

"Poor fellow," they said to each other as they were moving toward their quarters for the night.

Just at this moment a loud shout was heard outside.

The sentinel raised his gun and called out, "Qui vive?"

"Open the gate!" replied the voice of some one gasping for breath. "Quick! Quick! It is Sergeant Butin!"

The soldiers rushed to the gate and flung it wide open, and then, dark though the night was, they could distinguish the form of a man almost bent double, carrying on his back a soldier on whose sleeves the gold lace glittered.

No sooner had he passed through the gate than he staggered and fell. The soldiers crowded round, and by the flickering light of a lantern they recognized the Parisian. He was deadly pale and covered with blood. One hand was pressed tightly to his side, and with the other he still grasped the sergeant's arm.

"You!" exclaimed the captain on recognizing him. "Who let you out of your prison?"

"I let myself out, captain," answered the Parisian in a weak, broken voice. "I should have gone back when the shooting was over. I found the sergeant out there on the plain—he was wounded in the leg—and I wanted to get him back. I've managed it, but—I've got a bullet in my side. I don't think I shall go—to Hanoi—captain. It's better, though—than—having—12 French bullets through my skin. There—goodby—all of you"— And with these words he expired.—From the French of Paul d'Argency in Strand.

A man will die for want of air in five minutes, for want of sleep in ten days, for want of water in a week and for want of food at varying periods, dependent on circumstances.

IN INSOLVENCY.

CIRCUIT COURT—ROCK COUNTY—In the matter of the insolvency of E. R. Inman, by whom a petition for a discharge from his debts, under chapter 179 of the revised statutes of Wisconsin, was filed on the 29th day of June, 1897.

To all whom it may concern:

Pursuant to an order made in the Circuit Court for Rock County, Wisconsin, dated June 28th, 1897, all creditors of E. R. Inman, of Janesville, Wisconsin, are required to show cause, if any they have before said Court at the Court House in the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin, on the 20th day of September, 1897, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter of said petition can be heard, why said E. R. Inman should not be adjudged to be an insolvent debtor within the purview of Chapter 179 of the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin, and the several acts amendatory thereof, and why an assignment of the estate of E. R. Inman, such insolvent debtor, should not be made, and why he should not be discharged from his debts and why such other and further order should not be made as shall be just and equitable in the premises.

is one of the greatest charms a woman can possess. POZZONI'S COMPLEXION POWDER gives it.

THE SERVANT QUESTION.

The Advantages Which the "Lady" In the Kitchen Enjoys.

The servant problem is one which is of universal and painful interest. The world over the question is the same—how to adjust the conflicting claims of servant and employer. It is true that a bad mistress or master is able to make a great deal of misery for persons employed by her or him, but the advantage is not wholly on the side of the superior in social position. A servant, especially a domestic servant, is perforce admitted to a great degree of intimacy in the family. She knows its incomings, its outgoings, hears much of its private conversation and is quite likely to discover its secrets if it has any. If she is of a mischievous or gossiping disposition, she can create endless trouble by telling outside what she knows, enlarging upon what she merely guesses at and perhaps supplying missing links by the exercise of her imagination. What she says is credited because she is in a position to be well informed, and she can falsify with impunity, there being no redress for the victims. The servant therefore has a certain advantage, if she chooses to avail herself of it, while it is by no means always safe for the mistress or master to tell even truths, if they are unpleasant ones, about the employee. A case in point recently occurred in Paris. A gentleman, having discharged a cook for excellent reasons, was applied to by letter for information with regard to her character. He replied, also by letter, that she was wasteful, impertinent and inclined to drink. The cook brought immediate suit against him, and he had to pay damages. Now, it was imprudent of him to tell the truth about the girl; but, on the other hand, is it right to give a bad servant a good character and so insure her admission to families where she may continue her undesirable proceedings? The question is a complicated one, and persons who can avoid it altogether by dispensing with hired personal service are well off.

The sketch given today shows a girl's costume having a skirt of pearl gray crepon trimmed with narrow dark blue velvet, the upper band forming scallops and choux. The bodice of blue velvet has a puffed plastron of white mousseline de soie gathered under blue velvet bands. The close sleeves of gray crepon are trimmed with bands of blue velvet at the wrists and have ruffled sleeve caps similarly adorned. With this gown is worn a hat of blue straw trimmed with blue satin and cowslips.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE SEASON'S FANCIES.

Wide Variety of Fashions—Easy to Be In Style.

There have been seasons in times past when one species of clothing predominated and a certain style, severe or elaborate, influenced the entire outfit. Now it is not so. The well furnished wardrobe contains both simple and elegant tailor made gowns, odd vests, original boleros, jackets of peculiar design, light costumes billowy with lace, ruffles, puffings and furbelows and picture costumes of marvelous effect. A catholic taste prevails, so that it is difficult to be out of fashion, and it is to be hoped that this phase of evolution is a permanent one, it is so restful and convenient.

Women who have done much walking during a day's shopping or who have been on their feet to an unusual extent and suffer in consequence from an aching, tired, cramped feeling in the feet and ankles will experience decided relief if they put the feet in hot water—hot as can be comfortably borne—and, after drying them, rub them with alcohol. The cramp which comes in the hollow of the foot does not yield to moderate measures and is very wearing to endure.

The picture shows a costume of black silk grenadine having a broche pattern. The skirt is accordion plaited over an underskirt of pink silk. The bodice is likewise plaited over a pink silk lining and has a sort of bolero or plastron of ecru guipure, bordered with a narrow guipure embroidered with green and pink. The sleeves of black grenadine over rose silk have a double plaited puff and epaulets like the bolero. The collar, neck frill and belt are of pink surah, the sleeve frills of white plaited gauze. The hat is of pink satin straw trimmed with rose and green changeable taffeta and daisies.

JUDIC CHOLLET

Fully Prepared.

"So you wish to leave to get married, Mary? I hope you have given the matter a serious consideration?"

"Oh, I have sir," was the earnest reply. "I've been to two fortune tellers and a clairvoyant, and looked in a signbook and dreamed on a lock of his hair and been to one of those asterrolgers, and to a meejum, and they all tell me to go ahead, sir. I ain't one to marry reckless like, sir."—Household Words.

Ended Right There.

The new policeman on the block stepped up to the baby carriage and looked with great admiration at the cherub inside.

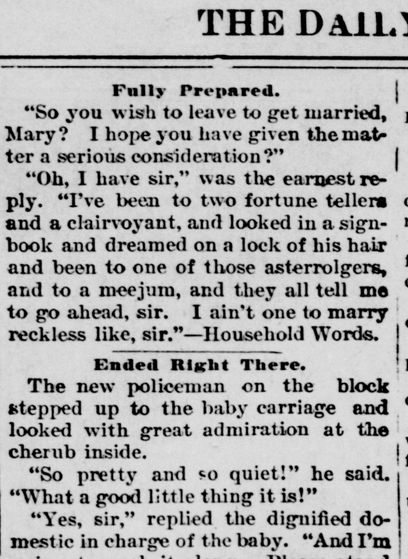
"So pretty and so quiet!" he said. "What a good little thing it is!"

"Yes, sir," replied the dignified domestic in charge of the baby. "And I'm going to push it along. Please stand aside."—Chicago Tribune.

The Dude.

He's the highest type of fashion
From his collar to his toes.
There's a most artistic passion
In the way he wears his clothes.
How his tie his taste expresses!
How that nobby suit he fills! !
And how faultlessly he dresses—
But he never pays his bills! ! !
—Pittsburgh News.

TWO TOO MANY.



Miss Ten Stryke—Well, what did papa say?

Percy—Oh, he said there had never been a fool in the Ten Stryke family yet, but if you married me there would be two.—N. Y. Tribune.

Values His Judgment.

When Phyllis prowls among my books,
To borrow some of them,
She bears away, with saucy looks,
Those volumes I condemn.
—Chicago Record.

An Estimate.

"How long is it going to take you to get through with this case?" asked the client, who was under suspicion of housebreaking.

"Well," replied the young lawyer, thoughtfully, "it'll take me about two weeks to get through with it, but I'm afraid it's going to take you about four years."—Washington Star.

Appropriate.

"Now," said the leader of the convivial assemblage, "let us drink to your best girl."

The host bowed suavely. "Thank you, gentlemen," he said; "suppose you make it a sour mash."

They perceived that she had but erstwhile given him the stony glare.—Davenport Outlook.

Delightful Neighbors.

"Our new neighbors are very polite," said Mrs. Perkase to her husband, when he came home at night.

"Are they?"

"Yes; I sent to borrow their stepladder, and they told me they hadn't one, but if I'd wait awhile they'd send and buy one."—Tit-Bits.

Not Particular.

"I suppose," she said, acridly, "that you would turn up your nose at cold victuals?"

"No, ma'am," replied Meandering Mike. "You'd be surprised to see how good-natured I'd take it if you was to offer me a Roman punch or champagne frappe."—Washington Star.

Should Feel Flattered.

"What did she say when you proposed?"

"She didn't say anything. She just laughed."

"Laughed, did she? Well, you have reason to feel highly complimented. She's not a girl who is easily amused."—Chicago Post.

The Complete Angler.

"What's a fishing rod?"

"It's a handsome jointed arrangement your father holds out over the water."

"What's a fishing pole?"

"It's a long wooden stick your uncle Bill catches fish with."—Chicago Record.

More Reliable.

"Bridget has had breakfast late every day this week. Can't you do something to get her up on time?"

"Well, there's the alarm clock."

"That doesn't always go off—lend her the baby."—Chicago Record.

Fraternal.

Barker—How can you say that all men are brothers?

Grump—Because we're all so jealous of the one who gets more than his share of earth's inheritance.—Philadelphia Press.

Cooled His Ardor.

Willie—I told her my love was so great that my brain was on fire.

Charlie—What did she say to that?

Willie—Told me I had better blow it out.—Yale Record.

Reason for Its Value.

Gobang—Contentment is better than wealth, my boy.

My Boy—It ought to be. It is a mighty sight harder to get.—N. Y. Truth.

Necessarily So.

Maud—Is life worth the living? Ah! that is a great conundrum.

Cynicus—Yes. We all have to give it up.—Brooklyn Life.

Reason's Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. The 25 and 50c sizes for sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Bad Advice.

They said that the youngster "would come out on top
If he'd only keep forging ahead."
So he forged—till a jury compelled him to stop
(Ten years—on plain water and bread.)
—Chicago Times-Herald.

Chicago Way the Better.

"If I didn't love my husband, I'd kill him!" exclaimed the warm-blooded lady from New Orleans.

"I wouldn't," replied the Chicago woman. "I'd get a divorce and stick him for alimony."—Town Topics.

Foreseen.

Mrs. McSwatt—Billiger, when I asked you to get a book for a birthday present for brother John I supposed you would select one that had at least a substantial binding. This one will fall to pieces before he has it six months.

Mr. McSwatt—No it won't, Lobelia. It will last that brother of yours 100 years, in any kind of binding. It's a book on manners.—Chicago Tribune.

In the Hoojee Islands.

"What did you say the name of this missionary was?" asked King Ktwapta.

"Live ever, your highness," said the trembling chief; "he said it was John."

"Well, for a change"—King Ktwapta looked lovingly at his toothpick—"let us have a Jackpot-pie."—Town Topics.

His Views on Labor.

First Tramp—Do you b'lieve in keepin' out the pauper labor of Europe?

Second Tramp—I don't mind the pauper labor, but when it comes to lettin' in paupers what don't work, I'm afraid they'll crowd us fellers into lookin' fer a job.—N. Y. World.

His Offense.

"The New Woman's club will never hire Tenor, the singer, again."

"Why so?"

"He was billed to sing four times at their annual dinner, and each time he warbled 'What Is Home Without a Mother.'"—N. Y. Truth.

An Unfeeling Comment.

"Willie Wishington," said the friend, "is one of those people who tell everything they know."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, wearily, "and he doesn't talk very much, either."—Washington Star.

An Ominous Sign.

Adviser—So you think that your wife is dead in earnest in her demands?

Husband—I certainly do.

Adviser—How do you know?

Husband—She has become silent.—Up-to-Date.

A Bear in Her Path.

"This baby carriage with a canopy top is a good thing," said the early spring nurse girl to the policeman in the park.

"Then push it along," grimly ordered the bobby.—Detroit Free Press.

In Literature.

"Bridgemore tells me he is writing for one of the magazines."

"Well, he is. He writes the names of the post offices on the packages for the mails."—Chicago Tribune.

The Brute.

Young Mother (on the train)—Oh, dear, I don't know what to do with you, baby!

Kind Bachelor—Shall I open the window for you, madam?—N. Y. Journal.

Helping Out His Mother.

"This won't do," exclaimed Mrs. Box, excitedly, "there's 13 at the table."

"Never mind, maw," shouted little Johnnie, "I kin eat fur two, that makes it 14."—Tit-Bits.
